Alpha Gamma Sigma History
Reveals '22 As Starting Year

The idea of a State scholarship society in the junior colleges originated with Dean Boyce of the Fullerton junior college. In 1922 Dean Boyce, President Plummer of the Fullerton junior college and Miss Lella Watson of the Santa Ana junior college met in Fullerton to prepare a State constitution and to make plans for the establishment of such a society.

Santa Ana junior college acted immediately and established its honor society, which is today the Omicron chapter of Alpha Gamma Sigma. Fullerton, however, did not take steps to form a society until about two years later.

The same year that Fullerton formed a society, Pomona, Chaffey, Citrus and Pasadena also formed chapters. Following the formation of these chapters, faculty advisers met every year in Southern Calif-

Columnists get letters—otherwise they would not be columnists long. This one, although not a subject frequently treated by this writer, is of really qualifying merit.

Its author, incidentally, is doing a special interview for El Don's Fiesta magazine, to be published May 10.

Scribe Laments
Olvera Change

Dear Jack,

Dropped in on Olvera street yesterday to look over the natives. You will remember that last year we had the old pottery maker at the Fiesta vending his wares. Decided to drop in on him and sweep up a bit of the Mexican flavor.

I learned that he doesn't speak English—saw to tell prices of his wares. He had a young fellow I took to be his son and a very attractive señorita whom I took to be his daughter, to sell his wares.

Quite foolishly I asked the young man to tell me how they made sundry articles. Sounds alright, but I don't think I'll take it up or even tell you about it.

After wandering about for a time I became impressed by the fact that it's all very well to preserve the early Los Angeles flavor and it's a nice place to go when you're tired of the dodging of cars and elbows. But anything of value isn't being given away and three-fourths of the stuff you buy for Mexican is factory made.

The merchants, too, are plenty modern, employing all the strategy of a Monky Ward salesman. It's all right but I remember the first time I went there. String trios, dogs, parrots, Mexicans, tortillas, boot blacks, and dancing girls. Great stuff, says I, and went back.

Next time I found a little less of the atmosphere and a bit more merchandise. Still the place attracted me. So I went again. I found it had even more merchandise and even less atmosphere. I stayed away a long time, but yesterday I returned, and it resembles nothing more than an art colony gone Mexican.

I like it anyway.
Yours,
Charles Downie

The "Guest" Problem
The problem of guest tickets for college dances has always been difficult to handle. Nearly one-fifth of the girls at tonight's El Jaleo will have absolutely no college connections other than their male escorts.

In spite of the heavy tax levied on the visitors, their numbers seem to grow. The question is delicate, and the administration plainly does not yet know the equitable solution—although the actual sentiment is quite plain.

A kibitzer is one whose permission you must ask before bidding.

Public Schools Week

Since the future of a nation depends not on the quantity but on the quality, of the education afforded its children, an opportunity to become better acquainted with the methods of teachers employed in the public schools and to see the results in the works and accomplishments of the pupils is one that every parent and guardian should welcome and accept.

Such an opportunity is afforded by the annual observance of Public Schools Week, inaugurated sixteen years ago by the Masonic lodges, as a forward step in advancing a better understanding of this first problem in national development. The general public throughout the State is invited this week to keep open house with its teachers and school children, to examine exhibits of school work and to listen to programs given by the Board of Education service clubs, in which other civic groups and students and instructors will participate.

Two paramount problems face the fathers and mothers of the nation, the home problem and the school problem, and the two are closely connected. A careful consideration of the child in the school room will help in its correlative responsibility, the child in the home. Thus Public Schools Week serves a double purpose in bringing the teacher and the parent closer together.—Los Angeles Times.

DAVIE DON'S DOINGS DURING SPRING VACATION, OR—MY DIARY

By Davie Don

Friday—Buenas dias senors y señoritas. Oh boy, today's the day! School let up for awhile. Am going to have a good time with my muchacha at the Gaucho spring sport dance tonight.

Saturday—Gosh, what a day. Musta stayed up too late last night. 4:30 is kinda late, but a guy has to have some fun once in a while—gee you only live once. I musta caught a kinda cold last night too. Darn it.

Sunday—Boy, Sunday is one day I really like. Slept until noon. Most anyone knows I needed the rest.

Monday—Was gonna go to the beach today but my darn old cold sorts held me down. Anyway I hadda mow the lawn. Hadda take some weeds outta the back yard too. Darn it.

Tuesday—Coulda gone to the beach today but it was cold as ice and anyway I saw a keen show. Gosh I hafta read a novel before I go back to school. Suppose I better start doing that pretty soon.

The Cocoanut Grove of the Los Angeles Ambassador is performing a band scoop for the natives. Here is the tentative lineup of orchestras. Don Bestor, Freddie Martin, Eddie Duchin, Ozzie Nelson, and Leo Reissman. These are all fine bands and will no doubt receive a warm welcome.

Jack Benny arrived in Los Angeles last Tuesday morning and will present his program beginning next Sunday from the NBC studios in Hollywood. The entire company will be here after next Sunday night. Don Bestor has a two weeks engagement to fill enroute, hence, Jimmie Grier will supply the music for next week's broadcast.

Again the Shell Show is changed. It is now known as the "Chateau" and is broadcast from Radio City and Hollywood. Al Jolson is the master of ceremonies.

Here is a real scoop. This is something we don't know anything about in a junior college, but University of California goes in for their proms in a serious manner. They have secured the services of Tom Coakley to play from 10 p. m. until 2 a. m. From 2 until 4:30 the music will be supplied by Ray Noble.

Ben Bernie's programs are showing a new life since he has introduced the better known guest stars to the audience. What with Winchell and Sophie Tucker, who by the way, labels herself as the last of the red hot mamas, is enough to make any program lively.

College Capers

Surveys are the present fad in colleges and universities. At the University of Pennsylvania a survey was made to discover psychological bits about students at examination time. It was discovered many were entering exam rooms wearing favorite sweaters, special pencils, peachstone rings, lucky neckties and other unique charms to carry them through to victory. Some were found to have unbound faith in drinking a large glass of apricot juice before the exams. A piano in the campus engineering building was almost constantly in use during the "finals" by students seeking relaxation and mental alertness for the tests, the survey reported.

Another survey made at the University of St. Louis revealed what co-eds there carry in their handbags. The cash amounted to $3.77, that was the average of course, not the total. It also revealed that they almost all carried combs and compacts. No co-ed admitted that she carried a nail file. Every one in school carried a handkerchief.

Ed Oliver, freshman halfback and boxer at the University of North Carolina, took a castal heave with a javelin while passing the track a few days and threw it over 180 feet. Ed Oliver is now a freshman halfback, and boxer, and star javelin thrower on the track team.

Iron man department:

Arnold Nutting, Marin jaysee, scored 17 1-2 of his teams 19 1-3 points in a meet with San Francisco State.

A Loyola university freshman at New Orleans, who was unable to write as fast as his biology professor could talk, brought a stenographer to class and sat back like a bloated banker while she took notes in shorthand... What brains some people have.

Ball Team To Disband?

At a late hour today the fate of baseball in Santa Ana jaysee was hanging by a thread. At the first of the season Coach Beatty received orders that the game would be discontinued if 15 men did not remain out for practice. Last night when only nine men reported, Beatty enlightened them as to the ultimatum of the officials. No more baseball!

If the diamond game is discontinued this year not only the present players but also the players of future years will suffer. If the game is discarded this season attempts to resurrect it in future years will be null and very void. It has always been thus.

With the scrapping of the club also will go one year's eligibility of each man who played in the Pomona fracas last Saturday. The Dons, altho appearing fatuous at times in that fiasco, did not do so bad considering the fact that they had less than a week's practice under their belt.

After today's engagement with Citrus, all the remaining games are at home. Thus the only expenditures for the school officials to put out will be the purchase of baseballs and possibly a few bats. The moguls should willingly dig in their jeans for this.

Yesterday, after finding out about the discontinuance, the baseball men volunteered to pay their own transportation expenses to Citrus today. Surely such spirit as that shall not be sacrificed in vain!

Pomona Champions Blank Padres 7-0

With Pitcher Piper allowing only two hits in nine innings of league ball, Coach Blanchard Beatty's Don diamond men were blanked at Pomona last week as they lost their first league scrap by a 7-0 count.

Chucker Tom Lacy and First Baseman Yoshida Yoshiki garnered the only two bunts from the moundsman of the championship Cossack aggregation. At the same time he allowed only two hits. Piper registered 19 strikeouts and the excellent fielding of his teammates accounted for the absence of runs from the Don's tally column.

Lacy allowed only three hits up until the seventh when the Cossacks went wild and ran up four chalkers. He allowed only seven hits all the game, but four tallies were made from fielding errors.

Lack of practice is given for the reason for the Don defeat. It is doubtful if they could have beaten the powerful inland team, but more practice would have meant a better showing. A practice game with the high school Wednesday was expected to put the horseheads in shape for the coming Citrus battle this afternoon at Citrus.

An increased relationship between governmental authority and our business and financial activities requires that public service must be efficient, enlightened and on a high plane of purpose and interest.

Don Nine Trecks To Glendora Today

Beatty Drills On Batting Practise For Todays' Tilt

Undaunted by their shutout at the hands of Pomona last week, the Dons meet their second test of the Eastern conference baseball season when they clash with Citrus this afternoon on the Glendora diamond. The game calls for 3 o'clock.

The blanking last week brought to light numerous weaknesses. Lack of batting practise has left the locals weak at the plate. Coach Beatty concentrated this week's drill on batting and now feels confident that his men are ready to put up a better showing against the Owls than they did against the Cossacks.

Last year the Owls scored a major upset by trouncing Santa Ana 13-6. An early season 17-4 victory over the Pomona college varsity indicates that the Azusans are far from weak.

Pleased with the work of Tom Lacy, Coach Beatty intends to start him on the mound today. Lacy allowed only three hits in six innings against the champion Pomona swatshirts.

Cliff Lee will be on the receiving end of the battery. Louie Madden, a fast ball chucker, will be ready to relieve Lacy if he shows indications of weakening.

The infield that performed credibly against Pomona will again be in evidence. Yoshiki Yosheda, 1b; Clyde Birdsong, 2b; Harold Youel, short stop; and Dick Moore, 3b; make up the combination.

Louie Madden or Charles Ishii, left field; Allen Mackay, center field; and Gil Yorba, right field will patrol the outfield.

Handball Reaches Final Stage Soon

Bill Graupensperger, having received a forfeit from Louie Madden, meets Harris Warren tomorrow for the right to play Claude Owens in the finals of the El Don handball tourney.

Graupensperger gained the semifinals by beating Pegues in addition to his forfeit from Madden. Warren won over Yorba in the first round and received a victory by default over Bob Schwarm when the latter withdrew from school.

Owens won his way to the finals by victories over Thompson, Downie, and Busch.

A notice will be posted after vacation for the signatures of all those interested in a doubles tournament.

Santa Ana Hands Indians Beating In Oval Debacle

With fast times and several "come through" performances studding the meet, Santa Ana jaysee scored a 73 1-3 to 57 2-3 win over the San Berdo Indians on the Indians' oval last week. It was the third straight win for Coach Bill Cook's Dons in their mad chase for the Eastern Jaysee Conference dual meet crown.

Koepsel won both dashes and was timed in 9.9 in the century against a strong wind. Captain Lucian Wilson won the high sticks and proceeded to trim San Berdo's Rex Heap, the favorite in the lows in 24.8s. Frank "Jig" Kroener took the measure of Ray Cokely in the shot and placed second in the discuss to Walt Gunther. Cokely failed to make his usual 10 points and it remained for Lukens' second in the pole vault and Vandruff's win in the high jump to make up the points.

Rudy Holman won the 880 and the mile events, and Boyd coasted to an easy victory in the quarter to complete the Don first place winners. Other place winners were Parr in the broad jump, Anderson's strong third in the 440, Craft in the 880, and Frias in the two mile.

Bunker Artists Meet Engineers

Their last match with the Long Beach Vikings forfeited, the local golfers will tangle with the Cal-Tech divot men tomorrow morning at the Santa Ana country club.

Although no advance information has been received on the Cal-Tech men's power, the local team will throw all its force into the fray with the hope of garnering enough points to register their first win.

The team will consist of a five-man squad made up of Leo Abbott at the number one spot, Gene Corson, Preston Piper, and Forrest Neal the next three respectively, and the fifth space a toss-up between Tom Kistinger, Charles Gard and Jack Reade.

The Loyola meet scheduled for last Friday was postponed indefinitely, but will probably be played.

Netters Drop Tussle; Play Owls Today

Having dropped the first conference match of the season, tennis Coach "Alabama" Flint today revamped his lineups to comply with the new scoring system. In previous years a team could win both doubles matches and thereby win the day's honors regardless of how the singles came out.

But this year things are different. A team must win not only both doubles, but also one singles to emerge victorious.

Last Saturday, in a match with Pomona jaysee here, Santa Ana won both doubles with comparative ease only to lose all four singles matches and thereby the entire match.

Lewis Wetherell and Kenneth Nissley played first doubles and Orris Davis and Dave Styring played second doubles. "These are our first four ranking players," stated Flint, "Wetherell could have won the first doubles with almost any other man on the team". So, in the match with Citrus here tomorrow at the Frances E. Willard tennis courts, Coach Flint will enter Nissley in one of the singles matches and pair either Stowell or Nielson with Wetherell in the first doubles.

The singles line up will be something like Gordon Davis, first; Kenneth Nissley, second; Marc Nielson or Kenneth Stowell, third; and Julian Spencer, fourth. This line up, as the double ranking, is subject to change today.

Badminton Tourney Next On Calendar

Badminton, the indoor tennis game with an English accent that is taking the country by storm, has definitely established itself here.

Because of the popularity the sport is showing in local circles, the physical education department has decided to organize a tournament.

All men and women interested in signing up for the match should hand their names in to Miss Zena Leck or Bill Cook.

Upcountry Boys To Avenge Losses In Grid, Cage Tilts

100, 220 Yard Races To Feature Meet

The Fullerton Hornets make their third start of the year against Don athletic teams here today at 3 o'clock. This time they meet Coach Bill Cook's undefeated Don trackmen on the Poly field oval determined to avenge the two previous defeats in football and basketball. The Dons, lead by Capt. Lucian Wilson are eager to make it three straight.

In all probability the relay will decide the meet, bringing together the two fastest relay quartets in the Eastern conference. The Hornets have run 3:30.4s while Cook's boys have traversed the mile in 3:31.4s.

The feature race of the day brings Vernon Koepsel of the Dons and Stedman of Fullerton. The Don speedster may upset the highly touted Stedman in one of the dashes. The 440 should also prove a coker with little Frank Boyd of the Dons, with a best time of 50.1s facing Ray Mallot of the Hornets with a 49.5s race to his credit.

Lucian Wilson and Kenneth Vandruff should dominate the hurdles getting some competition from Berkley in the lows. The 880 is a toss-up between Ray Craft, Holman, if he runs this race, Christ of the Dons and Chening for Fullerton. The mile and two mile will be ably taken care of by Holman, Frias and Clark, for the Cookmen.

The field events are all wide open with anything likely to happen if Kroener, Cokely, Gunther, Parr, Sides, Lukens and Vandruff all get "hot" in their respective events today.

Hammond, Robertson Welcome Honor Delegates

From D. K. Hammond
College President

It is a genuine pleasure to welcome members of Alpha Gamma Sigma to Santa Ana Junior College for their state convention. You will soon observe that the invitation was extended to you not that we might show you a beautiful campus are stately buildings but that you might see college work being carried on largely in Mark Hopkins-James Garfield style and also that you might feel the warmth of the hospitality in our hearts. We are glad to fraternize with those who have taken scholarship seriously and who can, as Woodrow Wilson said, distinguish the main circus from the side shows. We have no complaint to make about achievement along any line but we are anxious that scholarship is given the recognition it justly deserves. May scholarship be kept on a gold standard!

From George Robertson
Associated Student President

Welcome Alpha Gamma Sigma members! We realize how fortunate we are in being hosts to the Alpha Gamma Sigma convention this year. We want to meet you, shake your hand, discuss our problems, establish permanent friendship and do everything possible to make this convention be of the value it can and ought to be to all members of Alpha Gamma Sigma. We invite you to inspect our new location and facilities to which we moved just last fall. May we come to know each other better and thus derive the richest benefits from this convention. Again I extend a most cordial welcome.

Moav Formal Is Brilliant Affair

Approximately 20 couples attended the annual Moav formal dance held last Saturday evening at the Womens' clubhouse in Orange.

The dance was a program affair. Music for the evening was furnished by Ray Badgely and his eight-piece orchestra of Anaheim.

Flowers from the Orange Womens' club flower show were used in decorating the hall.

Miss Mabel G. Whiting and Caled Jackson acted as patroness and patron for the social event.

Frank Nieman's Orchestra To Play Tonight

The patrons for the affair are to be Mr. and Mrs. John H. McCoy, Miss Agness Todd Miller, and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin C. Flint. Harris Warren is general chairman for the dance.

Committees in charge are advertising, Duncan Clark, Albert Clark, Roy Seaver and Walt Bandick. Nolan Hasson and Jay Wood are in charge of the decorations.

This year's dance program, perhaps the most attractive of any junior college El Jaleo program, is expected to be displayed with those of the three preceding years at the San Diego Fair along with other examples of printing from the college Fine Arts Press.

Going To Gaucho Dance? Here's How—

Leaving Santa Ana from the jaysee (we're off) turn left on 17th street (look out for Boy Scout on the bicycle). Go west (young man, go west) to Seal Beach and then take the coast route toward Long Beach, cross two (2) bridges and as you enter the settlement at the 2nd bridge there is a fire station (Wheeee!) on the right hand upper corner. Turn left and go to the ocean. Turn around and go back to the road nearest the beach and head toward Long Beach for about a mile. It's that big building on the left. See it?

A. W. S. Spread Is Considered Success

Approximately 35 junior college women attended the W. A. A. hockey spread held Wednesday evening in the dining room of the Y. M. C. A.

Lucille Griset was in charge of the table decorations which featured dolls in sport garbs. The food committee was under the direction of Mary Wallace, president of the organization. Doris Flippin had charge of ticket sales.

The banquet was open to W. A. A. members only, contrary to the last dinner held in the Y building which was open to all junior college women. The banquet was held as a climax to the hockey season finished recently in which the Santa Ana women were victorious over the Fullerton women's hockey team.

Park Sketches Are Displayed

Drawings sketched at Orange county park Tuesday were displayed today by the drawing and painting class, and the commercial design class in the art department.

Frances W. Egge, art instructor, said the classes enjoyed the trip very much, and did some excellent work, and that another trip is being planned for the near future.
